Training Agreement

The delivery of the support staff training course is a partnership between the learner, the workplace training supervisor, the employer and Buttercups Training.

This agreement is between all parties to ensure that everyone understands their roles and responsibilities that you are committing to for the duration of this course.

Employer Role and Responsibilities:

- Be fully committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of the learner.
- Treat the learner fairly and reasonably like the rest of the workforce and not discriminate or act unfairly against the learner.
- Provide the learner with appropriate development time, support and supervision while training.
- Appoint and support the workplace training supervisor to fulfil their role, ensure there is a realistic level of resources for them to be effective in their role.
- Notify Buttercups Training within 4 weeks if their employment is terminated for any reason. If this is due to redundancy then permit the transfer of the course to another workplace if the learner or Buttercups Training are able to arrange one.
- Inform Buttercups Training of any matters or issues arising that will or may affect the learner's learning, development and progression. This includes informing Buttercups Training if the learner has an unauthorised absence from work or leaves their employment.
- Permit a break in learning for the learner, where the circumstances require it.
- Allow Buttercups Training and any quality assurance organisations involved in the delivery of the course, onto the employer premises to carry out assessments and quality checks when required.
- Allow Buttercups Training to send important updates to the learners and workplace training supervisors directly.

Learner Responsibilities:

- Take responsibility for my course and commit to the successful completion within the required time frame
- Engage positively with learning and feedback.
- Comply with the policies, regulations and procedures of the programme found in the course materials and /or learner handbook and I will contact Buttercups Training if I require a paper copy of the learner handbook .
- Ask for support from my employer or Buttercups Training if I am unsure, or do not understand any aspect of my course or assessment.
- Inform Buttercups Training should I be off work for a period of time (e.g. for sickness or maternity leave) or any other circumstances change.
- Seek help from Buttercups Training if I have concerns around my health, ability or progression on the course.
- Report any issues or concerns regarding my course or the workplace to Buttercups Training if it cannot be resolved via normal workplace procedures.

Workplace Training Supervisor Role and Responsibilities:

In order to act as the workplace training supervisor for the learner you must meet the following requirements for the role:

- Be a pharmacy registrant (or in a dispensing practice be a GMC registrant).
- Not have a significant or financially dependent relationship with the learner.
- Regularly work alongside the learner.
- Agree to complete a training course with Buttercups Training
- Act, at all times, as a professional role model.

Responsibilities:

- Complete an induction with your learner, so they know what is expected of them and when it is expected.
- Facilitate opportunities for your learner to learn.
- Facilitate protected development time so the learner can complete their course in line with the timescales agreed.
- Act as a coach in the workplace, offering constructive feedback and advice throughout their training to aid progression through their training programme.
- Facilitate supervised assessments in the workplace.
- Complete observations or witness testimony assessment of your learners to facilitate the demonstration of practical competency in the workplace.
- Provide feedback to learners on their activity books within 10 working days of them being presented by your learner.
- Submit requested assessments to Buttercups Training via your training course website in a timely manner.
- Liaise with Buttercups Training on your learner's performance when requested.
- Where necessary, report to Buttercups Training if your learner's health (physical or mental) could be causing harm to themselves or others.
- Raise concerns with Buttercups Training if your learner demonstrates unprofessional behaviours or unsafe practice.
- To treat your learner fairly and reasonably, like the rest of the workforce, and not discriminate or act unfairly against your learner.
- Notify Buttercups Training Ltd if you are no longer able to be the training supervisor for your learner.

Buttercups Training Responsibilities:

Buttercups Training has the responsibility to oversee the teaching and assessment of the training programmes with appropriately trained staff, resources and quality assurance measures to meet the outcomes laid down by the GPhC accreditation of the course. Buttercups Training will host and manage the systems for teaching and assessing. In addition, they will provide progress information for the learner and their workplace training supervisor/employer. Buttercups Training will also raise any concerns at the earliest opportunity.

- Ensure that the training meets the requirements set out in the GPhC accreditation for the programme.
- Create agreements with all parties to ensure everyone is aware of their roles and responsibilities.
- Check workplace and training supervisor suitability to support the learner.
- Provide an introduction for learners, explaining the learning programme and facilities available.
- Providing a training course for the workplace training supervisor to ensure they are competent to undertake their role.
- Provide Buttercups tutors to support both learners and workplace training supervisors.
- Provide a range of support for the programmes including additional learning, welfare support and an out of hours helpline.
- Ensure the learner is being given protected development time during the programme by their employer.
- Liaise with relevant parties over any issues that arise during the course, in line with the course policies and procedures.
- Quality assure the course teaching and assessment to continually improve the quality of the programme.
- Treat all learners with fairness.
- Respond to all enquiries in a timely manner.
